

THE TRUTH REPORT

A Weekly Rundown of Important Activity in Topeka, from a Principled Perspective

Week One - January 13, 2023

Topeka, KS- The legislature kicked off the 2023 session this week. Your representatives and a few senators were sworn in on Monday. And despite a few chilly mornings, committees grabbed cans of starter fluid and roared to life. Bills were introduced across the spectrum from tax reform to maintenance of the state's hydrological systems. We will let you know about the specifics of bills that affect traditional values, individual liberty, free enterprise, and limited government, as they are developed.

The House and Senate Republicans announced their eight-point plan for the next 24 months entitled "A Better Way." The governor also addressed the people this week during her inauguration, where we were pleased to hear she is dedicated to traveling in the middle of the road on issues, not the hard left.

Next week, we will bring you more meat on actual legislation. If the Better Way is any indication, it'll be excellent Kansan beef. Please check out these links and contact your rep and senator with your ideas/concerns.
